REJECTIONS?

No one looks forward to a phone call or email that includes the word "rejected." Dealing with rejections puts added demands on your time and resources, compromising productivity.

RESOLUTION!

With a phone call or email from you, Benedict Company will begin working diligently to bring resolution to an unwelcomed rejection. We have formed long standing relationships nationwide with the best in the business. By this, we are able to efficiently place the product for the best returns.

We put our resources immediately to work to find the best solution, time and time again.

RESOURCES

With an ever-growing, nationwide network of customers, we have ready resources available to address your rejections.

TRACK RECORD

Details are important to us. Every load gets the attention it deserves. Whether it is a full load or LTL, we will work diligently for the best overall return.

For over 25 years, Benedict Company has been the salvor providing solutions for insurers, logistics companies, carriers, shippers and growers.

Call on the Benedict Company to be your partner when rejections challenge your time and resources. We are ready to work— for you!
